

Do you know what happens when you take the wrong pill, thinking it is a sleeping pill? I'll tell you what happens.

You know when someone gets bashed on the head in those cartoons, they see stars or little blue tweety birds? Or maybe little naked babies with wings and harps. Apparently, in the real world, you see tiny naked Chris Kirkpatrick's with guitars.

Oh, but it doesn't stop there. All of a sudden, one of them will stop; to fix a string on their guitar. The other cherubs won't see this coming so they run into the halted cherub. The three in the back will fly away grumbling unmentionables.

The one who ran into the halted cherub will get pissed off and use his guitar as a bat. It will get swung across the head of the cherub fixing its guitar. Well then that one will spin around and do the same thing back. They will keep doing this to each other until all of a sudden the other four members of *NSYNC show up. They all have an instrument held in hand and are fully naked with wings. They will encircle the two angry Chris's.

Those two Chris's will whimper and drop their guitars that suddenly turn into sparkles on your face. Then the four *NSYNC members will run forward and jump on the two Chris's. When they back out there will be nothing left. Then those four cherubs will turn on you and stare you down with fiery red eyes and sharp, bloody teeth. You scream and people in the room with you will think your having an acid trip... which most likely is exactly what you're having.

They gnaw at your arms and at your legs and slap your face. You kick and fling and yelp but it doesn't help. That is when you follow these four steps:

- 1) Flatten Joey and Jc, who are gnawing at your legs, with the nearest flat object.
- 2) Take a hold of Lance and Justin, one is biting an arm and the other is slapping your face while leaving an evil laugh ringing through your ears.
- 3) Slam the two cherubs together in the air and they will go poof.
- 4) Shove your fingers down your throat and throw up the medicine you took only moments before.

Hopefully no one will throw you in the loony bin for this. Just make sure you take the right medication when you want to go to sleep or else this will happen.

Trust me on this, your Backstreet Boy member would know.

TA-DA!